Mitt Romney stood beside his wife, Ann, and their children, Craig and Craigie, at the church today to take the oath of office. Romney's swearing-in on a copy of the U.S. Constitution was a last-minute add-on to his inaugural events, including a speech at Notre Dame and a luncheon with the Supreme Court justices. When first lady Michelle Obama made her way up the aisle at the Basilica of the Sacred Heart, the Romney family smiled and waved but in a brief moment of ceremony, the Romneys' facial expressions seemed just as neutral as any politician's. The image was a far cry from the reception they received upon their arrival at the church at 10 a.m. Saturday, when the crowd chanted "U-S-A! U-S-A!" and strode down the street with American flags. "It's just amazing. I love it," said Marion Kastner, a 54-year-old hospital worker from Hamden Township who held an American flag. "It's a great honor. We're very proud to be Americans."Q: ASP.NET Core 2 Cookie - 405 I'm following this guide on how to setup Cookies in ASP.NET Core 2.0: and this is my code: using System; using System.Collections.Generic; using System.Linq; using System.Thread
