This tool is an outstanding tool in the era of Internet where all webmasters are trying to search for keyword within their sites to increase their ranking in the major search engines like Google, Yahoo and MSN. They need to be able to measure their rankings and understand how many people are visiting their websites with regards to keywords and then use it accordingly to increase sales and traffic. The basic need for this tool is to find out or check out the keywords and their relevance for a specific website. It enables the webmasters to create a sitemap or XML file of their site which automatically generates a map for a particular website and displays the result. The webmasters can then use the generated XML file to submit to the search engine to get index and then display results within the specific website easily. When compared with other tools, it offers many features to the user and is an excellent tool for the first time users to have a better understanding about the keywords which are used for searches on the major search engines. This is an extremely useful tool because it is a free tool that generates a sitemap and creates an XML file of the site and the next step is to submit it to the major search engines and the next step is to export the XML to text or zip so that you can view the results and optimize the SEO (search engine optimization) and then submit the results to the search engine. The site maps are the key to the success of the website, they enable the search engine to index and display the web site as a whole, it tells the search engine that there are links between pages on your web site.
