The master server and the agents can share a key to encrypt the connection. This allow to be secure and avoiding the so called man-in-the-middle attack. As a consequence, no intermediate host would have the opportunity to get a copy of the key. The key is encrypted locally. It is then decrypted by a common secret key that is shared between the master server and the agent. All key material is encrypted and sent over SSL Mobikule Free Open Source Unlimited Polymorphic Roster Management Software with Beautiful High-Level Web Interface, No Vendor Lock-in Mobikule is a free open source unlimited polymorphic roster management software with a gorgeous web interface.
