(Ben Strasser, The Star) Donna Woodruff, the mother of Davon Wilson, speaks with the press at the trial of a former Detroit police officer, July 27, 2017. Strasser was sentenced to life in prison in the killing. Strasser's attorney argued that because of the "tit for tat" nature of the war in Detroit, the defendant's actions were motivated by fear.Donald Trump's proposal to build a wall between the US and Mexico was his first big-sounding campaign promise. Back in the 1980s, that's just what Americans paid for with a combination of high taxes, high interest rates and a ballooning national debt. After the financial crisis, efforts to reduce the debt and excessive borrowing were put on hold for another decade. Now things seem to be shifting. Paul Krugman, the Nobel prize-winning economist, writes that Trump's debt-inducing tax cuts have made debt a serious threat, "a striking shift" from the view that debt
