The use of lanthanide probes to explore the binding characteristics of calcium channel blockers with calmodulin. Calmodulin (CaM) is a key regulator protein that regulates the activity of many calcium-activated potassium channels and can thus be considered a potential drug target. Drug discovery is currently aimed at identifying compounds that can exert their effects in a CaM-dependent manner. Lanthanide probes have been suggested as a potential

Rise, Tarnished

THE INNOVATIVE ACTION RPG. The days of adventuring are gone. Today, more and more people are living their lives behind screens, and they consider ordinary movies and music boring. While TV tries to sell a viable, but prosaic idea of entertainment, the movies have lost their cinematic charm. Especially the story of the TV dramas are tired and, for the most part, indistinguishable from each other. The reason is that they do not belong to a larger narrative, having lost their characters in the digitalization process. Enter the new fantasy action RPG.

Within the time-honored verses of the land of Elden and the desert of Delisi, humans face the danger of extinction, and the Nobility are losing strength. Human civilization is a fragment of the original, half-forgotten world, which has been slowly sinking into chaos since ancient times. Because of the latter, the lack of order, and the lost of reason within society, the struggle for superiority has begun, and it will ultimately

Blauvögel (film) Blauvögel (Blue birds) is a 1971 Argentine film by Miguel Gallén based on the Argentine author José Hernández. It is a black comedy and a criticism on the military dictatorship era in Argentina. The film has a soundtrack by Jairo, the group formed by David Lebón's brother, together with Daniel Viglietti and Ricardo Castro. The script was the subject of controversy when it was shown to the public. Some of the members of the unionization process of the film industry later sued the author as part of the Theatre of the People. It was released in Buenos Aires on 5 July 1971, and in some other provinces in Argentina on 6 November 1971. couldn't even open a pain killer. Aptly, it took almost 3 days to wake back up. I have a fever once a year, so still no biggy. However, I am no young person. This isn't the first time I've gotten to this point in my life. \- Year before last, I had what I guessed to be some sort of strep throat, was in bed for 4 days and completely off of work. \- In college, there was a really bad case of mono, I was in bed for about a week and a half. \- In my mid 20's I put myself through a really rough spring training, I went a little berserk from not sleeping properly and dehydration, lost about a month of time. The list goes on. The point is, I have a cool story and I am not
