Photoshop CS6 includes new tools such as the Content-Aware Face Fix filter, Content-Aware Fill, and the Refine Edge, and Camera Raw. These tools are covered in the book's online bonus CD. The other videos for the book are the same as the previous version of this book, although the video may be using the latest features. Figure 12-1: The interface for Photoshop CS6 offers a lot of different choices for editing images. Choosing Tools and Techniques The first time you use Photoshop, you may feel a little lost and overwhelmed. Have you got the right tools for the task at hand? Here's a quick guide to the main tools and techniques you may use when editing your images. Toolbar While working in Photoshop, you can customize the Toolbar, which displays the tools you need for a particular task. You may find that the buttons you need are not right-clickable when you first launch the program. To modify the Toolbar, choose View⇒Toolbars⇒Customize or click the Toolbars button on the bottom of the workspace. The buttons you see will depend on your setup, but you probably see a few of the most common ones: Selection: You can use one of the selections from the tools on the Selection menu to make your work easier by enabling a selection instead of having to paint. You can also use the Pen tool to create selections. Camera Raw: This menu allows you to access and use Camera Raw to convert your images using different options such as Sharpening, Contrast, and so on. Layers panel: The Layers panel is the default workspace for most jobs. As you see in the following sections, the panel can hold different tools for drawing and editing. Slideshow or motion: This menu allows you to make a slide show with your image or a time-lapse sequence. Windows: All the windows to the left of the panel are used for viewing your image. You can create new windows with the Window menu. Brush: Use this tool to paint. You can paint on a layer by holding down the Option (Mac OS) or Alt (Windows) key when you paint. Eraser: Use the Eraser to get rid of unwanted pixels. You can also use the Eraser on a layer to adjust the opacity of that layer. Airbrush: Use this tool to

The present invention relates to an article of apparel and a method of manufacturing a top having a piece of material stitched thereon to form a crown. Top of the head apparel has been manufactured and worn for centuries. The purpose of top of the head apparel has remained essentially the same since the beginning of civilization. Top of the head apparel has been designed for ornamentation and to provide head protection. Top of the head apparel is also often worn by athletes as part of their sports attire. However, with the advent of other popular styles and fashion choices, top of the head apparel has been largely relegated to being considered outdated and not fashionable. For example, the top of the head apparel known as top hats or Baseball hats have been subject to many modifications and new styles. However, the function and purpose of such top hats remain the same. Over the years, apparel manufacturers have attempted to keep top of the head apparel in style by creating new patterns and shapes. Despite the numerous attempts in the prior art to keep top of the head apparel in style, there has remained a need for a new article of apparel that compliments a modern and stylish look. Many modern women do not wear as much jewelry as they used to. However, there is still a desire to wear jewelry to enhance their wardrobe. Thus, there exists a need in the art to provide women with a convenient way to carry and store their jewelry so that they may wear the jewelry without having to resort to using a purse or other cumbersome jewelry containers. With the recent popularity of wearing lace front wigs, there has been a need to carry and store lace front wigs in a convenient and practical manner. In particular, there exists a need to carry and store lace front wigs in such a fashion that the wearer may carry the wigs without the need of a purse and to be able to reach the wigs without having to reach for them by hand. As disclosed in U.S. Pat. No. 6,199,834, there is described an article of apparel that includes a crown piece and a headband. The crown piece is typically secured to the wearer's head. The headband defines a space into which the crown piece is disposed to form the crown piece extending across the top of the head. The headband also provides a means of securing the article of apparel to the wearer's
