menu based interface that is easy to use. New functionality is added to RAM Connection each release. Advanced, Powerful, and Versatile. RAM Connection is a powerful and versatile CAD software package. It is used worldwide in the production of high-end architectural and civil infrastructure projects. Enterprise Modeling RAM Connection is equipped with in-depth structural and facility models. The structural models show the integrated design of construction components for a given project. Facility models depict floor plans, wiring and lighting, as well as other utilities such as plumbing and air conditioning. These models aid the design process by providing detailed views of the project from an end user's perspective. The Designer's Workstation RAM Connection provides a robust workstation environment. Users can see and edit their models from any of the user interface tools. Additional tools are included that allow users to modify models and add additional information, such as text, pictures, or symbols, to their drawings, saving or exporting to a variety of formats, including EPS and DWG. RAM Connection V8i RAM Connection V8i consists of several unique models. These models are: RAM-Connect, AutoPipe, RA-Geom, SACS and InterGraph RAM Connection. The RAM-Connect model represents the entire building or structural frame with a structural system integrated inside of it. The AutoPipe model is designed to organize and visualize pipes and cable routing in the design process. The RA-Geom model is used to model and calculate the reinforcement provided by reinforcement detail. The SACS model provides the engineering concept of the building geometry. The InterGraph
