With a completely different kind of combat system, AoD: Arcane Warfare is a rogue-like ARPG that allows you to easily customize your character, with all the skills and abilities you desire. With eight skill trees to craft your character, and no classes or generic templates, AoD offers a unique system that allows for a vast amount of character customization and skill combinations. Whether you're a battle mage, stealthy ranger or a blaster wizard, AoD will allow you to craft the exact character you're looking for. AoD gameplay is unique thanks to its dynamic combat system and diverse skills. Every skill is a complex skill tree of attacks, defense, and support skills. With every single skill being dynamic, you are given the choice to dodge or block as a defense skill, block as a support skill, or even combine multiple skills to create a "Finisher" skill. In this way, every character has their own playstyle, whether they're a stealthy damage dealer, a tanky support, or a medium-range blaster wizard. 8 Skill Trees and Character Customization AoD allows players to create a wide range of characters of any class by either customizing your character with 8 different Skill Trees or by choosing a class-specific Skill Tree. Because skill trees are fluid, with every skill tree the player can choose to use different ones depending on the situation, they are able to customize their characters to whatever type of playstyle they prefer. Progression in AoD is made through point gain, so players unlock levels and skills faster by performing an action such as crafting a weapon or completing a quest. Among all the items in the game, there are weapon items, helmet items, armor items, and jewelry items. Armor and weapons can be crafted and upgraded using points that are earned through battles. All the items that players see are collected through the missions in the game. Points can be upgraded at the weapon shop, armor shop, and jewelry shop. Players have the option to choose the class, weapon, helmet, armor, and jewelry they want to craft at the level up screen. All the items made are equippable at each level and they are directly connected to the level-up system, allowing players to immediately use the skills they've been working on throughout the level. 8 Skill Tree Types There are eight distinct Skill Trees in AoD that offer various combat options and unlock multiple skills. Skill Trees are

What's new in Zerowood:

This small private monolith on the A2 road between Estepona and Peñíscola in Málaga province received the first title of heritage at NOGC 'Excellence of the Cultural Heritage of Andalusia' on its inauguration in 2006 for its own elevation from a 'protected space' to 'attractive space'. The RNS Abocenter has not been merely the implementation of a planned urban regeneration project, but it was a bold and risky initiative that, over the years, has been responsive to the knowledge acquired on its surroundings (its 2003) or to the ideas promoted by the government. This pilot project - one of the first of its kind in Andalusia and probably in Spain - was the fruit of the agreement signed between 2003 and 2005 between the municipality of Estepona and the architects of the RIBA Compasso d'Oro. Using the sequence of concepts borrowed from the Progettazione Blu, Zerowood was presented as an eye catcher in Andalusia's initiative for the rediscovery of the Mediterranean city-like style. Zerowood has played an active role in the capacity of promoter of the ideas of a Mediterranean garden city in the face of the difficult climate of the Global Financial Crisis. All this did not escape the attention of the musicians of rock left wing group El Mundo No Pasarán (EMP) who in 1992 issued a recording on their 'People's Park' CD entitled New Park, painted the poster for the first pop festival of Monolith for the projected competition with the words 'What a beautiful field of flowers, think what it would be like to live next door to a perfect place.' Later this same sign helped provoke reactions in the media to one of the most radical and detailed proposals ever for a monumental site in the Western Mediterranean, even to this day. History In 2003 the Estepona Council invited the architects to take part in the creation of a pilot project of urban regeneration for the areas of Villa de Estepona, La Salque, Costa Blanca, La Garrotxa and Puerta de Murcia. The urban project adopted by Estepona proposed the creation of a small park of between 700 and 800 lots, similar to the new parks of the world. The RNS Abocenter was the place chosen by the architects for the implementation of this pilot project based on certain principles of the Radiant City philosophy of Leo von Klenze. A.
