Yuri was actually a Soviet space monkey who got lost during a test flight and travelled into the future. Over the years, he was inhabited by his computer, mutated into a super-intelligent computer persona named Yuri, and powered up his own jetpack, merging with his ship to create the ultimate space warrior. At the beginning of Awesomenauts, Yuri is the only character you can fully control at a certain level. Eventually he will be the only fully controllable character available. Yuri has no weapon, but he generates his own mines and can destroy enemies and structures.He also has four special attacks that Yuri can perform at any time. Yuri, the ship he pilots, generates a series of time-warping effects that mimic those of quantum mechanics. These effects warp the area around him or his allies. Yuri has a time bubble that slows or speeds up both allied and enemy characters within its effects. A single blast from Yuri's rifle can destroy enemies, structures, and buffs that stop him in his path. Pressing the space bar at the same time as shooting fires a single blast that can destroy anything nearby. Yuri, the ship he pilot, serves as the melee weapon. When Yuri is in motion, he generates a powerful blast by pressing the spacebar. He can't destroy objects, but he can destroy enemies and structures. Yuri boasts a large variety of tools to support his allies. He can generate mines, generate a time-warp bubble around allies, and, in some cases, generate a cannon that fires a special blast. - Super Saiyan: Official video of my new character. This all started when GM KillrAction posted a new Sakurai video on his youtube channel. I ended up reading some over his shoulder to eventually find myself glued to his fingers as he was demoing this new Super Saiyan. He made a comment about it being difficult for him to fly around as a Super Saiyan and said more out of frustration than anything else. At the end of the day I couldn't help but notice how flashy that looked and I thought about how just a simple, yet logical transformation like that makes a universe of difference for a character's power up. As such I decided to make my own. It's basically just a parody of the traditional Super Saiyan look. Weird Cap: Select character Yuri - SMB: Just about half done but I'm really happy with how these ended up coming out. I started off with the idea of these being like Ultimate Monster/Super Mario Bros./Bundled Super Mario Bros./Super Mario Bros 3. If you disagree, just let me know. I don't feel like waxing on and on about it so just
