Called AV-10, the vehicle will be built at Deere & Company's Mayfield facility in rural Jackson County, which will enable the city to drive down costs by allowing Deere & Company to take advantage of shared platforms, said city spokesman Scott Armer. The vehicle currently in use by the city's maintenance crew is a 1996 International 4WD vehicle that is too small to accommodate a full-size fleet. "This is something we've been wanting to do," Armer said. "We're trying to keep at the forefront of technologies ... and how it can be used to benefit our citizens." The city can't yet say what the vehicle will be used for, Armer said, noting the technology and customization available through Deere will allow the city to "do things that we couldn't do before." The city plans to have the vehicle purchased soon, Armer said, with the goal of testing it in summer. "We're looking forward to it," he said. When it's purchased, the city will have to overhaul its maintenance agreement with the city of Jeffersonville, to give Jeffersonville the opportunity to provide similar services, Armer said. The city of Jeffersonville had to overhaul its own maintenance agreement with the state after the Fort Knox Correctional Facility in Georgetown was taken over by the Department of Corrections, Armer said. "We're wanting to do this as much for others as we are for ourselves," he said. # # Copyright 2019 Xilinx, Inc. # # Licensed under the Apache License, Version 2.0 (the "License"); # you may not use this file except in compliance with the License. # You may obtain a copy of the License at # # # # Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, software # distributed under the License is d0c515b9f4

Waiting for the auction. Big fuck you in the corner there. There's a 3-bedroom house on the right with a wonderful view of the valley and mountains. While we were there, two "friends" stopped by to buy the house. How the fuck did they even afford that? I didn't sign the dotted line, but "friends" did. My house has 100% more windows than this other one. What do you think? I asked my "girlfriend" if she'd like to buy the house... We were gonna try and get an extension for my visa... But then they signed the dotted line... This one is a "kangarowhatchog", invented by our

Gay, who was recently informed that general manager Geoff Petrie plans to trade him, has said he wants out of Sacramento. A source told FOX Sports that he requested a trade earlier this week and has expressed frustration with the team, prompting the move. Sources tell FOX Sports that the Kings are open to trading Gay in order to save money, perhaps as early as the Feb. 21 NBA trade deadline. In November, Gay signed a five-year, $90 million deal. NBA power brokers have been discussing the possibility of Gay's possible departure for months, but he has mostly maintained his level of involvement and has yet to officially request a trade. "Rudy has consistently told us he wants to stay with the Kings," Petrie said in a statement. "What he wants is to help our team win and he's that type of player. That's what he wants." Two teams have been mentioned as possible destinations for Gay, who is averaging 17.9 points and 5.3 rebounds this season. The Celtics, who currently own the no. 1 pick in the NBA Draft, have shown interest in him. He is expected to be a restricted free agent this summer. Earlier
