In the Elden Realm, rumors that the Elden Ring will be born appear, arousing the belief that “The Elden Ring Will Be Born,” though the location has not yet been revealed. At the same time, the Foggy Dawn rises in a remote village to ruin the lives of the people. An odd woman named Clara has also appeared, and remains in this village.

Though the people cannot see the Elden Ring, the existence of the Ring is confirmed by the voice of the souls of the dead and the ones who have been abandoned. Clara also divulges that the Ring will come into being due to the actions and existence of the godlike goblins called the “sun gods.”* This is the reason this village is covered with shadows.

There is also a strange village on the other side of the Elden Realm that has no divine beings. The village continues to operate as if nothing has happened.

Clara is given immense powers from the godlike sun gods. She leads a group of rebels who the nation calls the “Rebel Army.” Their first target is to cross the Foggy Dawn and reach the Elden Realm to

Seems ok. Picked up my copy of it on sale at Circuit City. Switched on my laptop, and started playing. The first thing that came to mind was wow, this is pretty ugly. There were two choices on the start screen, both of them are just boring black and white text. The music that came on was dull and clunky. Downloaded and installed, put in the DVD. Jumped to a map and started exploring. The landscape was beautiful. I had to stop for a bit to enjoy the amazing scene. Then I continued walking. The map consists of a horizontal road, and the vertical roads of the map are each made up of a series of squares. Each square is the size of a city block with a church or castle in the center. I walked for a while, and then saw something interesting. On one of the “roads” there was a little robot chasing me. After a couple minutes it was on me, and was jumping around trying to get in my way. Trying to kill me of course. And I'll be honest, this was the only good part of the game. I ran into a guy with a giant sword that was two halves, it could be used as a club or a sword. I hit it with my sword, and its head went flying, but no damage was done. The robot kept chasing me. I ran into a guy and attacked the robot. He stopped it dead, I hit the button, and waited for a cutscene to pop up. That's when I noticed that the little robot had a human head, so I hit the robot again and it died. Then there was more fighting, more weird robots and people, and eventually I ran into some guy with a crossbow. The crossbow is your basic melee weapon, it can be hit once to hit it, or you can get it on the ground and automatically hit it, like your sledgehammer. Crossbow has a cool attack animation, he would spin around and hold the crossbow and aim it at the robot, then he would pull the trigger and it would shoot the robot. A sword is faster, but if you get it on the ground it has a cool animation where it slams into the ground and ricochets at you. After that, another robot was chasing me, there was a sign that said to hit it, or at least bff6bb2d33
