The script is really simple: On my server I'm using the error reporting set to 4 (Development) mode, and the error is: 500 Internal Server Error. It's taking me a few hours to fix this, so any help would be great. A: You're not providing an email address to actually mail, that's why it is returning a 500 error. Make sure to do something like this in your code: $to = "somebody@someplace.com"; $headers = "From: from@somewhere.com"; $subject = $_POST["subject"]; $body = "Here is the message". " ". $_POST["message"]; mail($to, $subject, $body, $headers); So, the body of the message is actually stored in $body before it gets 6d1f23a050
