As you can see, I've changed the file names to suit me. The files are located on my Windows 10 computer and I can view them when I browse to `vsndata\assets\bf\3d`. The problem is that I want to be able to access them from `asp.cs` in `C#` so I can perform some code in my website, but when I run it I get a forbidden error. I've gotten around this problem using the `HTTPWebRequest` to get the files to my application and then perform the code, but I'd like a better solution. A: You can use `SaveFileDialog` to select files and then use `File.ReadAllBytes()` or `File.ReadAllTextAsync()` to get the content of the file to a string and use it as a source for your code. Q: With `Kotova`, what's the recommended way to cancel a `PublicSubject's onCompleted` call? I have a fairly simple method that downloads some data from a server. The downloading() on takes a while, so I would like to cancel the download if there are any exceptions. In Java, I would use `try/catch/finally` block that would cancel the download. Subject downloadSubject = ... try { downloadSubject.onCompleted() } catch (Exception ex) { // Cancel the download downloadSubject.cancel(); } finally { // Do something with the data. } I can achieve the same thing using `Kotova's PublishSubject` like so: `Observable.downloadSubject = ... downloadSubject.subscribe(new Action() { @Override public void call(T data) { // Do something with the data. } }, new Action() { @Override public void call() { downloadSubject.cancel(); } }, new Action() { @Override public void call(Throwable throwable) { // Cancel the download. }`
