India's push to usher in an era of clean growth is rolling out a string of new laws. Many of them, including the government's flagship Clean Fuel for Transport Law passed in June, could disrupt the way energy is produced, transported and consumed in an energy-starved country that gets less than half of its fuel needs from renewable sources. Coal India, the world's biggest miner, is set to introduce a record production target this year.

Radiographic and histological observations of bone healing around implants with and without the use of a polymethylmethacrylate barrier. The purpose of the present study was to examine the regenerative ability of bone in an area around an implant with and without the use of a polymethylmethacrylate barrier. Five baboons were sacrificed 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 10, and 14 weeks after the implants were placed in the tibias. Autopsy specimens were taken of the bone-implant interface in a cortical and cancellous area around the implant on the left side and in an area with a cortical c6a93da74d
